AGL VPP Services Agreement

Effective 11 November 2025

Please read this Agreement carefully as it sets out the Terms and Conditions of the Virtual Power Plant (VPP) Services, including services you would provide to us (such as granting us control over your battery) and services we offer to provide to you (relating to how we operate our VPP).

We (or a related entity) must be your electricity retailer for you to be part of our VPP. The terms of this Agreement are “Ancillary Product terms and conditions”, meaning it forms part of your AGL Electricity Supply Contract.

The capitalised terms used in this Agreement have the meanings set out in clause 22 (Defined terms and interpretation).

Here are some key details of this Agreement:

Agreement Details
Customer (“You”)	Your details are set out in the Welcome Letter.
Supply Address	Your Supply Address is stated in the Welcome Letter.
VPP Offer	This is our offer to provide you with AGL Credits in exchange for the VPP Services provided by you to us.
VPP Services	This is the right you give us to monitor, control and use your Battery. This includes us modifying your Battery so as to cause it to Charge, Discharge or Hold.
AGL Credits	The AGL Credits are set out in the Welcome Letter. These credits are applied as partial payment towards your electricity bills under your AGL Electricity Supply Contract and are outside the scope of GST. They may include: ▪ A sign-up or welcome credit which you receive on your first electricity bill after entering this Agreement; ▪ Ongoing credits which you receive for remaining on the AGL VPP; and ▪ Event credits which you receive for us modifying your battery system so as to cause it to Charge or Discharge.
VPP Services Term	The VPP Services Term is 12 months from the date set out in clause 1.2 (a), with renewal for successive 12-month periods in accordance with this Agreement.
Specifications	The compatible combinations of battery systems and inverters for the AGL VPP are as listed on our VPP Landing Page from time to time.

Agreement Details
	Further Specifications: 1. A dual channel meter is required when a battery has been installed in an AC-coupled configuration, which is a site with one or more pre-existing solar PV system(s). The dual channel meter provides separate metering of solar production, household load, and battery inverter operation and performance, and is required for the solar battery system to be compatible with the AGL VPP. 2. The Supply Address must be on a fixed export limit of equal to or greater than 5kW to be compatible with the AGL VPP. If the Supply Address has a fixed export limit under 5kW, you will not be eligible to join the AGL VPP.
Eligibility Criteria	In addition to the Specifications, clause 2 of the Agreement lists other Eligibility Criteria for the AGL VPP. That criteria includes passing an Initial AGL VPP Test to confirm that we can orchestrate your battery system.
Privacy and Data	You consent to us accessing and using data relating to your battery system, as set out in clause 11 of the Agreement. Clause 12 explains how we handle your Personal Information and when we may share it with third parties. Further details are available at agl.com.au/privacy-policy .
Ending this Agreement	You or we can end this Agreement for any reason, with 30 days' notice. Clause 9 sets out some other reasons that this Agreement could end. No matter how this Agreement ends – you will not be charged any exit fee. You will also receive any credits which are still owing to you at the end of the Agreement, on a pro-rata basis. In some cases, we will also pay you the credits you would have received if the Agreement continued until the end of your current 12-month VPP Services Term (see clause 9.5).
Service issues	You have rights under Australian Consumer Law if there are certain problems with services we supply to you (for example, if our services are not provided with due care and skill). We also promise to comply with the Consumer Code in relation to this Agreement. Subject to those rights (and any other legal rights that cannot be excluded), clause 13.2 of the Agreement sets out some issues or impacts that we are not responsible for.
